Breivik: - The aim of the attack in Oslo was to kill the entire government and the Prime Minister. I realized that an attack in the joint would not be appropriate. A Monday would be the best, during a Monday meeting.

Holden: - But employees in the building. Were the desired objectives?

Breivik: - High density housing is the most attractive political target in Norway. It is well known among the PST. The assessment is absolutely correct. When the NATO bombing of Libya or elsewhere, calculates those with less than ten percent civilians killed. It was my goal too. The goal as a whole is a legitimate target. [...] It is the most attractive target. There are no cafes or shops, and few civilians walking around.

Prosecutors Engh: - Those who do not fall in civil, what are they?

Breivik: - As I have described it in the compendium, I have categorized in three groups. I have divided it into A, B and C traitors. They are all political activists. [...] Journalists, academics and politicians who work for multikulturalisme are all targets. [...] All the news agencies in Norway supports multikulturalisme. They are all political activists.

14:43 Holden will not comment on them now, but refers to a separate file on this court, all players have received.

14:45 Holden is now moving through the main features of the prosecution evidence task.

15:02 Prosecutors finished their opening speeches. Now it defends Geir Lippestad to make their comments.

15:03 Lippestad conferred briefly with his client before he gets up.

15:05 Lippestad says that the central issue is sane safety issue. It is important to determine whether he can be punished or imposed mental health care.

15:06 - We understand that it is tough for families to hear Breivik explanation. But he has a right to explain themselves. It is a human right. And more importantly, his explanation is the most important opportunity the court has to determine whether he is sane.

15:07 Breivik want to read a document as a prelude to his explanation.

15:08 Lippestad refers to evidence the assignment. The goal is get Breivik declared sane. They will call in witnesses from all health Dikemark and Ila.

15:10 - It is difficult to understand Breivik's world view. The question is whether he is alone in viewing these things, or whether there are subcultures that believe the same. Experts will tell the court about this.

15:10 Persons who are associated with this type of environment will also be recalled.

15:12 Marginalized groups' ability to get the word to Norway, is also the theme. Finally, people from the Labour Party called in, because they were the target of Breivik's actions.

15:13 On Friday 16 defenders received 2000 pages new documentation, including the Knights Templar, and the use of social media. Lippestad not asking for an extension now, but pray that it recorded in the minutes that the evidence came late.

15:13 Lippestad have now finished their comments.

15:14 Breivik: - I have been told that when I came to Hammersborg square, so I met a woman with a stroller that I asked to go below its ministries. But this I do not remember. But I may have said that it was an exercise, or something like that.

15:15 Breivik explains about the use of the term "reflection brain", that he has acted on instiktiv.

15:16 Breivik: - I sat in the car and saw that nobody was following me. I had set at P4, and ran. Two boxes fell down behind me, and made a very bump. But then I realized that there was a pressure wave that had done so they fell down.

15:16 Breivik: - P4 alerted after a few minutes that there had been an explosion at Youngstorget. Then a new message explosion at its ministries, and that at least one death.

15:17 Breivik: - I thought that the operation was unsuccessful and that I had to carry the rest of the action.

15:17 Holden: - If you had the radio on the way out to the developer. Did you get any new updates along the way?

15:17 Breivik - I heard that there was a car bomb, and an expert on the radio saying that this was a revenge attack after bin Laden's death.

15:18 Breivik - I knew that MS Thorbjorn went every hour, and I was there about 16.15.

15:19 Breivik - I could not wait down at the pier in 40 minutes, so I parked nearby. I changed gear. Took off his flak vest and took instead a battle vest with ammunition.

15:20 Holden: - In view of the messages you heard you P4 saw action against the government building as a failure. How do you rate it in the edge?

15:20 Breivik - I had decided that the criteria for the ministries to be successful was that at least 12 would die.

15:20 Holden: - How did you come up to number 12?

15:20 Breivik: - I wanted one of the main pillars were to be destroyed.

15:21 Breivik: - The aim was not to kill as many as possible, but to get attention. Unfortunately, that society works so that I had not received attention by blowing up the mailbox to Storberget.

15:21 Holden: - The number 12 Where does it come from?

15:21 Breivik: - It was just a number. The media attention is related to how many people die.

15:22 Holden: - What thoughts do you have about this part of the action today?

15:22 Breivik: - The way I look at 22 July is not about me, its ministries or Utøya. It is about Norway and the future of Europe.

15:22 Holden: - Is it a little bit about those who died and were injured as well?

15:22 Breivik: - It includes our country and our future.

15:23 Holden: - Did you ever thought about those persons who would die to get hurt in the government building?

15:24 Breivik: - The aim of the attack in Oslo was to kill the entire government and the Prime Minister. I realized that an attack in the joint would not be appropriate. A Monday would be the best, during a Monday meeting.

15:24 Holden: - But employees in the building. Were the desired objectives?

15:24 Breivik: - High density housing is the most attractive political target in Norway. It is well known among the PST. The assessment is absolutely correct.

15:25 Breivik: - When the NATO bombing of Libya or elsewhere, calculates those with less than ten percent civilians killed. It was my goal too.

15:26 Breivik: - The goal as a whole is a legitimate target.

15:26 Holden: - Who has decided that the government building is a legitimate target?

15:26 Breivik: - It is my decision. It goes not to the compendium.

15:26 Breivik: - It is the most attractive target. There are no cafes or shops, and few civilians walking around.

15:28 Prosecutors Engh: - Those who do not fall in civil, what are they?

15:28 Breivik: - As I have described it in the compendium, I have categorized in three groups. I have divided it into A, B and C traitors. They are all political activists.

15:28 Engh: - Which group would I fall?

15:29 Breivik: - You would not have been on the list at all.

15:29 Breivik: - Journalists, academics and politicians who work for multikulturalisme are all targets.

15:30 Engh: - If you are a journalist far out on the right side. Will there be an enemy to you?

15:30 Breivik: - All the news agencies in Norway supports multikulturalisme.

15:30 Breivik: - They are all political activists.

15:31 Engh: - Who were you threatened by the 22 July?

15:31 Breivik: - If you know you can die in two minutes ...

15:31 Breivik: - I think that everyone in my situation would have acted on instinct.

15:32 Breivik adopting a didactic tone when he faced Engh Engh will explain "how the brain works."

15:32 Breivik: - I think you've misunderstood. The body and brain feel threatened, and act for you unless you choose it yourself.

15:34 Breivik - I ended up in that mode again after I had fired the first shot at Utøya.

15:35 Judge asks Arntzen Breivik explain what he means by the term simulation.

15:35 Prosecutors have concluded their questioning of the defendant.

15:36 Breivik: - You can trade away your fears. I have used meditation to displace fear. But a side effect is that you are avemosjonalisert and one obtains an resolve. I depend on it, for example, to clear this trial.

15:36 Arntzen: - Is this some day misdemeanor?

15:36 Breivik: - I have been doing this since 2006, the last year every day.

15:37 Engh: - Would you failed elsewhere?

15:37 Breivik: - Maybe.

15:37 Engh asks: - You showed emotion when we turned movie. Why?

15:38 Breivik - I was not prepared for the film. There are the songs I use when I meditate. I simulate the video in your head.

15:38 Engh: - How does the video you?

15:38 Breivik: - I have tried a lot different, and seen what works and does not work. Some songs work, some do not.

15:39 Breivik: - It is a type of meditation that suppress your fears.

15:39 Engh: - Would you be able to show compassion and empathy, if you had not used this method?

15:40 Breivik: - You must be a bit careful about using empathy and compassion, you use it very subjective.

15:40 Engh: - Do you consider yourself an empathetic person?

15:40 Breivik: - Yes, absolutely.

15:40 Breivik: - It is a very comprehensive discussion. It is an important question, but right now I'm very tired.

15:41 The court is adjourned.
